

Template for Personal Stories | Dragonsinn.net

Would you like to share your story on why you like dragons, or what they represent to you?

Read on...

What's the point of this?

For the 2018 version of Dragonsinn.net, I thought it'd be nice to feature stories and original submissions from visitors.

Topics include:

- What you like about dragons
- Dragon dreams you've had (and any associated meanings)
- Special experiences (e.g., reading a dragon picture book with your child)
- Something else you'd like to share with fellow dragon lovers

How long should my submission be?

100 to 1,000 words. You can attach 1-3 pictures if you like.

Do I have to use this template?

Nope. But it's here in case you need some help organizing your thoughts :P

Template Format

1. Your Name and Brief Description of Yourself (e.g. your profession; something interesting about you; some of your hobbies)

2. Your personal dragon story (and what you cherish about it)
3. Website or Social Media Links

Example from Template

My name is Jess and I created Dragonsinn.net in 1999.

Dragons are special to me for several reasons. I remember being very captivated by dragon stories as a young child. This early love for reading has been the cornerstone of basically every single other endeavor I've spent time on in my teenage years and beyond.

When I expanded the first version of Dragonsinn in 2003, it really expanded my own knowledge about dragon mythology throughout the ages. On a more technical level, this website redesign challenged me to improve my web design and analytics skills. It was fun to open up the web stats and see which countries visitors were coming from, and which pages were the most popular ones on the website.

I appreciate all of the visitors Dragonsinn.net has had over the years. Running this website is a constant reminder of how the dragon continues to fascinate us, even in an age of great advancements in technology.

Say hello on my website, Facebook, or LinkedIn.

Word Count: 167

Great, I'm done. Where do I send my story?

Send in email or attachment to jess@dragonsinn.net

Include "story submission" or something similar in the subject line.

---

Looking forward to your story!

